“An Eastern Perspective on Consciousness”

Dr. Anand Paranjpe is Emeritus Professor of Psychology and Humanities at Simon Fraser University in Canada, where he has been teaching since 1967. Having studied with Erik Erikson and Stanley Milgram, his recent work has focused on the understanding of psychological principles embedded in the intellectual and spiritual traditions of India. In addition to numerous articles, he has published three important books in this area: Handbook of Indian Psychology (edited with K. Ramakrishna Rao and Ajit Dalal) (2008), Self and Identity in Modern Psychology and Indian Thought (New York, Plenum, 1998) and Theoretical Psychology: The Meeting of East and West (New York, Plenum, 1984). His academic honours include a Smith-Mundt and Fulbright award for post-doctoral research at Harvard University in 1966–67, and his election as the Fellow of the Canadian Psychological Association in 2004.
