

Interested 1st and 2nd year students from your College of Veterinary Medicine may submit their applications for the 2017 MVSP in France to Dr. Ludovic Freyburger. We provide an opportunity for three North American students to spend their summer research training in laboratories at one of the French veterinary schools.

The interested students can find the detailed application requirements and proceedings as well as further information on the international program including the research topics to choose from on the Merial Web site (<http://www.merialscholars.com/students/Pages/European-Schools.aspx>).

The deadline for students to submit application is January 16, 2017. This is likely to be extended given the late announcement.
