

Departmental Funding

Individual Departments in AVC may have funding available for personal support, travel to scientific meetings, or other research-related expenses. The student should consult with the Department Chair about such possibilities.