

Confirmation of Supervisor's Review

To be completed for Graduate and Honours research submissions

Graduate and Honours students who are conducting human subject research for their thesis work must submit their project for ethics review prior to undertaking their research. This review is carried out initially by the Departmental Level Ethics Review Committee

As part of the review process the Board must ascertain whether there is sufficient scholarly merit to the research; in other words, is this a valid piece of research? For this reason, it is important that student's ethics proposal be carefully scrutinized and approved by the student's supervisor and Departmental Level Ethics Review Committee prior to submission for review. A well-conceived and carefully presented research project will pass through the ethics review process more quickly than one which has not received adequate input from the student's supervisor and/or supervisory committee.

For this reason, the UPEI Research Ethics Boards requires that Graduate and Honours student supervisors complete the following form and ensure its inclusion with the student's ethics submission.
