UPEI Programs or Courses Ineligible for Title IV Aid

Telecommunication Delivery Method:

Any program of instruction offered by an Institution that uses telecommunications as a method of delivery is not eligible for Title IV aid. There are no programs at UPEI that are exclusively offered online, though a few departments do offer options of course electives through the Web/Moodle portal.

Students who are receiving Title IV aid are not eligible to take these courses as part of their study program, and must select alternative residential courses as a part of their academic pathway. For assistance selecting appropriate courses and electives, UPEI students are able to receive academic advising through Student Affairs; call (902) 566-0488 or email studentserv@upei.ca to make an appointment with an advisor. Students can also contact the Chair of their department to discuss alternative residential courses that may be used towards their degree programs that are outside of the telecommunication delivery platform.

If you are unsure of whether your course or program is eligible for aid, please contact the Financial Aid Office.

Nursing:

At this time, Nursing at UPEI is not an approved program of study eligible for Title IV Aid.

Co-operative Education Programs in Undergraduate Studies:

Please contact the Financial Aid office before pursuing a cooperative education program or courses to confirm eligibility.
