

News, Events and Activities

In this issue:

- Orientation for New Faculty and Librarians
- Academy for Early-Career Faculty and Sessional Instructors
- Coming Soon announcement
- Teaching Matters!
- Fall 2022 Lunch and Learn - Expressions of Interest

Orientation for New Faculty and Librarians

New Faculty Orientation (NFO) will introduce our new librarians and faculty colleagues to a broad variety of teaching, research, and support units at UPEI as well as the UPEIFA, the faculty union. NFO sessions will include background information and tips to help your transition be as smooth as possible. New faculty and librarians are encouraged to attend these two half-day sessions on Monday August 29 and Tuesday August 30 in the Teaching and Learning Centre, Room 230 in the Robertson Library Annex.

Academy for Early-Career Faculty and Sessional Instructors

Thursday Sept. 1 from 9:00 to 4:00
Teaching and Learning Centre
Room 230 Robertson Library Annex

This is a full one-day workshop promoting practical, active learning approaches for novice and early-career instructors as they prepare for teaching this fall. The sessions will offer information on evidence-based strategies to incorporate active learning into your classes. This day is geared to sessional, term/contract, and tenure track/permanent instructors at UPEI. Can't attend in-person? Email TLC@upeil.ca for virtual options.

Pexels Photo by fauxels

Coming soon:

- Call for mentors and protégés for the Peer Mentoring Program (open to sessional and lab instructors too!)
- Call for Teaching Square Participants
- Fall Reading Group
- Grant-Crafting session with Research Services

Fall 2022 Lunch & Learn Expressions of Interest

The Teaching & Learning Centre is looking for colleagues interested in presenting a Lunch and Learn session this fall. If you are interested in leading a session or have suggestions for a session contact Charlene VanLeeuwen in the TLC or email TLC@upeil.ca.

Teaching Matters!

On Tuesday September 6 UPEI will be welcoming Dr. Sarah Elaine Eaton to kick-off fall semester activities in the Teaching & Learning Centre. Dr. Eaton will be giving an evidence-informed keynote about key issues and trends related to academic integrity. This will be followed by a hands-on workshop focused on practical interactive ways to teach academic integrity and ethics. This day of professional development will wrap-up with an opportunity for informal conversation around academic integrity issues. Watch your email inbox for more details.

Session #1: Keynote - Academic Integrity: Evidence-Based Insights and Key Issues, MCDH 242 from 9:30 to 11:30

Session #2: Workshop - Interactive Ways to Teach Academic Integrity and Ethics, Teaching and Learning Centre Robertson Library Annex Room 230 at 1:00

Session #3: Informal Conversations. Meet at the Teaching and Learning Centre Robertson Library Annex Room 230 at 3:30