UPEI Teaching Community Conference Recordings

Recordings from UPEI's 5th annual Teaching Community Conference are now available if you want to go back to re-listen to the awesome key-note or check out some of the other concurrent sessions you weren't able to get to. Descriptions of the sessions and links to the recordings are available under the ARCHIVE tab on the Teaching Community Conference website.

Atlantic Canada Forum on Academic Integrity and Contract Cheating

Wednesday, May 25, 2022 from 1:00 pm - 3:00 pm Atlantic

Saint Mary's University is hosting a virtual forum on academic integrity and contract cheating in the Atlantic Canadian region. The forum will be led by members of academic staff with practical experience in the academic integrity process at their institutions. In addition to sharing knowledge and best practices, the conversation will address challenges and lessons learned from the pandemic and increased remote delivery of curriculum.

The aim of the event is to begin to develop a shared framework of practice when it comes to increased student reliance on large-scale companies promoting and selling so-called 'academic services' to students. For more information on the discussants refer to this poster and to register for this event, please send an email to Marie Harding marie.harding@smu.ca

Lunch & Learn Session

Our next Lunch and Learn is an information session presenting the most common and relevant contracts that researchers at UPEI might encounter. Join Neil LeBlanc from Research Services to learn about contracts such as MTAs, RSAs, or MOUs. Come to the Teaching and Learning Centre, Room 230 in the Robertson Library Annex on Thursday June 2 at 12:00 pm Atlantic.
